Preface

The 2024 International Conference on Modern Education, Humanities and Art (MEHA2024), successfully held from September 27 to 29, 2024, in Zhengzhou, China, brought together experts, scholars, and practitioners from diverse fields. This distinguished event provided a platform for in-depth discussions on the latest advancements and pressing issues in modern education, humanities and art.

As key pillars of cultural and intellectual progress, these fields hold great significance in addressing the challenges of a rapidly changing world. MEHA2024 aspires to catalyze the generation of new knowledge and perspectives through the dissemination of cutting-edge research and the exploration of emerging trends. Furthermore, this conference seeks to facilitate the establishment of global collaborations, advancing the practical application of academic achievements and contributing to the enrichment of these pivotal fields.

This year's conference program features a diverse array of keynote addresses, academic presentations, and roundtable discussions, offering participants a valuable opportunity to engage with thought leaders and peers from across the globe. It is our sincere hope that these interactions will inspire fresh ideas, foster meaningful partnerships, and illuminate pathways for future research and innovation.

We are deeply grateful to all contributors and participants for their unwavering support dedication to the success of MEHA2024. Hosted by the International Association of Applied Science and Technology (IAAST), this conference brought together minds from around the globe to exchange ideas and advance progress in education, humanities, and art. May this gathering of minds be a memorable and intellectually rewarding experience for all attendees.

With best regards,

Conference Committee of MEHA 2024
